SPEED UP TEAM PERFORMANCE THROUGH COMMUNICATION

"Without clear assignments, work gets done twice, while important work still needs to be done."

"Meetings consume too much of your daily work – because you lose focus and fight over topics."

Performance Sprint: Speed up team performance through communication is the workshop that enables you to get work done easily and fast. The right communication makes your team happy and fosters a productive working atmosphere.

This workshop shows you how the Sprint mindset utilizes the most effective communication. You will learn to articulate your team's goals, inspire a high performance and create a positive working relationship based on vibrant interaction and listening. Equipped with the essential tools, techniques and skills, you will become a leader who can build your communication at all levels.
